GOLD HEELS CAPTURES THE BRIGHTON IN RECORD TIME

Great Four-Year-Old Is Driven to Limit to Beat Blues.

RACE PROVES GREATEST OF YEAR

Argreor Gets the Best of Redfern and Makes Fast Pace.

BIG CROWD SEES THE RACE

Winner Greeted by an Ovation as He Passes Judges' Stand in Front—Owner Says "He Is the Best Horse in the World"—Herbert's Good Race.

NEW YORK, July 5.—In the fastest time ever made for a mile and a quarter on a circular track—2:05 4-5—Gold Heels, the four-year-old son of the Bard-Heel and one of the best racehorses seen in years, won the thousand dollar Brighton Handicap this afternoon, while 25,000 enthusiasts greeted him with a tremendous ovation as he passed the judges a half length before Frank Farrell's Blues, who also ran the race of his career. C. T. Boots' Argreor was third, landing there a length before Ten Candles. A length back Herbert finished the same distance in front of W. C. Whitney's Morningstar, Port Royal and Northern Star trailing in behind, badly beaten.

It was the best handicap run this year, and the most exciting affair ever seen on a local racetrack. The time alone speaks volumes for the celebrated winner. Gold Heels carried 126 pounds, which made his performance all the more remarkable.

Breaks All Records.

The best previous time for the distance on a circular course was 2:04, made by Charentus, a six-year-old, in 1900, who carried only 106 pounds. The feat was performed at the Empire City track, Yonkers, and turfmen said at the time that it would be a long period before the record would be lowered. The best time for a mile and a quarter straightaway is 2:03 3-4, made by Banquet in 1896, who was then a three-year-old, and who took up 108 pounds. This record was established at Monmouth Park, and was run down the hill. Gold Heels, therefore, appears to be entitled to the palm, in that his performance was decidedly better than either that of Charentus or Banquet.

The race was a whirlwind from start to finish. The quarter was covered in 0:23 3-5, three-eighths in 0:36, the half mile in 0:48, five furlongs in 1:02 2-5, three-quarters of a mile in 1:13, seven furlongs in 1:25 3-4, one mile in 1:38 2-5, and the mile and a quarter in 2:05 4-5.

Gold Heels Takes Lead.

Gold Heels took the lead just before the mile was completed, so that the time for that distance was credited to him. To go that far in 1:38 2-5 was sufficient evidence that no handicap of the kind has ever been run here, and that Gold Heels was extended to the limit of his speed and endurance to finish in front, made the race all the better.

It was W. C. Whitney's Herbert that compelled Gold Heels to extend himself at the mile, and later on, when General McLewee's great horse had drawn away with about a length in the middle of the stretch, it was Frank Farrell's Blues, with 123 pounds, that made him go on at top speed, ridden out to the wire by Odom in order to save the day. Argreor came from away behind and closed so fast on the two leaders in the last sixteenth that many of the spectators thought that many of the Western horse would win. But the task was too great.

It is J. S. Smith's Northern Star that attempted to run away with Little Redfern, in the first part of the race, the time would probably have been slower. The Hanover colt, as soon as the barrier was raised, rushed out in front, attempting to take the bit in his teeth. Redfern turned away at the bridge, but the colt was uncontrollable, so the boy let him run. The pace was so fast that it carried the others along with it.

A Race All the Way.

Blues and Port Royal followed closely, and Odom was also compelled to let out a couple of links on Gold Heels, and in that order they rushed into the backstretch. Northern Star soon ran himself into the ground, and Port Royal followed him. Then Herbert, Gold Heels, Blues, and Ten Candles raced along to the far turn in a bunch, with Argreor leading the others. At no period of the race did Gold Heels appear to have an easy task, and when he landed the prize there was almost as much praise for the second and third horses as there was for the winner.

Lewie's colt could be beaten in the Brighton.

The Pace That Kills.

Contrary to expectations, Mr. Whitney's Morningstar had the call over Port Royal in the betting, but the pace killed both of them early in the game. Blues' performance was far above expectations. In all of the big handicaps this year the Farrell colt was a disappointment, his owner losing heavily on him, but in this race Blues showed his real form, and incidentally proved that the layers held him at a false price.

From the moment the horses started the crowd was in a state of frenzied excitement. Instead of seeing the favorite run away from the others without trouble, the spectators were amazed when they found that Gold Heels would have to run the race of his career to win, and the fact that the result was in doubt almost to the last jump increased the nervous tension until there was an explosion so great in volume when the race ended that it was impossible to make one's self understood for the moment.

It was the consensus of opinion after the race that the Brighton Handicap of 1902 was the most sensational event of the kind ever seen in the East, if not in this country, and for Gold Heels there was nothing but the highest praise. "Diamond Jim" Brady, who is a part owner of the colt, saying: "He is the best race horse in the world."

In the fifth race Turney Brothers' good three-year-old, Warrant, made his appearance of the year, and although he was beaten, he ran a good race, and will do to watch in the future. Three favorites won. The track was slow.

BRIGHTON HANDICAP ALWAYS A GOOD RACE

Is the Richest of the Three Spring Handicaps.

Past Winners of the Race—Suburban Horses Always Prominent—Gossip of the Turf.

The Brighton Handicap, which was won yesterday by Gold Heels, although one of the most recent of the big Eastern handicaps, has become a very popular race within the past few years. It is at the same distance as the Suburban and Brooklyn are—a mile and a quarter—and it has furnished better races from a time standpoint than either of the other events.

The Brighton Handicap was first run in 1895. At that time Brighton Beach was considered a second-class track, although many of the best horses on the turf contested for the purses hung up. The first running of the race resulted in a victory for the Erie stable's Nanki Pool, who beat the great Clifford after a good race, with Dutch Skater third. The race was run on a heavy track, and the value to the winner was $1,850.

In 1897, Mike Dwyer took the race with his good colt Ben Brush, who had a few weeks before won the Suburban Handicap. The Morris colt The Friar was second to Ben Brush, with "Father Bill" Daly's colt Volley third. The value that year, also, was $1,850.

The following year the added money was increased and the race was worth $2,490 to the winner, who turned up in Headley & Norton's horse Ornament, with Tillo, the Suburban winner of a few weeks previous, running second. George Keene was third.

In 1899 the Brighton Association determined to make the race one of the leading handicap races of the Eastern turf, and its value was accordingly increased to a guaranteed gross value of $10,000, which made it the richest of the three big handicaps. Imp, the black whirlwind, fresh from his notable victory in the Suburban at Sheepshead Bay, went down to Brighton and demonstrated that her triumph in Sheepshead Bay was no fluke, by winning handsily and beating Elbebert, Bangle, and other cracks, traveling the mile and a quarter in 2:05 3-5. Harness & Brossman, the mare's owners, were just $3,420 better off by her winning.

Imp again started in the race in 1900, but this time she had to carry 125 pounds, whereas in 1899 the mare shouldered only 115. The weight proved too much for the gallant black, and she had to be content with third place. Jack Point winning for the "King of the Book-blacks," Tony Aste, with the Kentucky second, Jack Point ran the distance in the remarkably fast time of 2:04 3-5, and his owner was $9,245 richer. The time made still stands as the record.

Last year Today, who had three weeks before ran third in the Suburban, with only 100 pounds up, beat Green Morris' Watercure, with the Suburban winner, Alcedo, third.

It will be seen that the Suburban winner has generally figured prominently in the Brighton Handicap.

It looks as if Mizzen has gone back. He is certainly a very fast colt, and a good one as his victories earlier in the year demonstrate. With a short race the Hastings horse will probably show his true form again, and if he goes to the post in the Futurity as good as he was when he made his debut this season it will take a mighty good horse to beat him.

Goldsmith will be given a let-up. Trainer Madden says, and will not make his appearance again till the opening of the season. Last winter's fillet left its mark upon the colt, and he has not been himself all year.

Prince of Melbourn has become somewhat of a sulker. He will not work and he is therefore hard to get him in condition. It is doubtful if this horse ever races again.

Ballyhoo Boy is working very well, and Joe Madden says he expects to get some races with the Futurity winner before the season is over.

White Chapel, the winner of the Double Event, who is a son of White Rose, a good performer at beginning a few years ago, resembles his dam very much. White Rose was a good two-year-old and ran well as a three-year-old, but she was retired to the stud before she became four, and White Chapel is her first foal. He is a very promising colt. White Rose still holds the record for six furlongs at the Benning track.

Major Dainfield looks to be about the best three-year-old of the year and is surely the most profitable. He has already won three rich races and is entered in a number of others. The Major was not an extra good two-year-old. He was sold, along with Luck and Charly, Hindred, and Hanover colt, to General McLewee last year. Phil Dwyer, the former owner, receiving $45,000 for the quartet. At the time Luck and Charly was thought to be much the best, but Dainfield won more than his bet and was a great race. Luck and Charly has not yet won a race, and Hindred and the other colts are no account. By the terms of the sale, Mr. Dwyer was to receive $5,000 out of the first stake won by Major Dainfield, and $1,000 out of the Realization, should he win. The Major won the $20,000 Tidal Stakes, and Mr. Dwyer secured his $5,000, and Friday he got the $1,000. General McLewee has his eye on next year's big handicaps and thinks his black colt can repeat the victory of Gold Heels in the Suburban.

Masterman, the Belmont candidate for the Realization, did not start in that event because he burst a hoof in the race. It will be many weeks before the colt starts again, if, indeed, he ever races.

In the fourteen contests for the Double Event, only five two-year-olds have been able to win both parts. These were Torso, in 1889, the first year the race was run; Russell, in 1890; Hornpipe, in 1893; Handicap, in 1895, and Ornament, in 1896.

The crowd at Sheepshead Bay on Independence Day was greater than that in attendance on Suburban Day.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Decanter, the horse formerly trained by W. F. Burch, and very popular among Benning patrons, has been sold by Mr. Hitecock, his owner, to Thomas E. Ryan, a breeder of hunters, whose farm is in Virginia. Decanter was shipped several weeks ago to Kentucky, but he has now been sent to the Virginia farm of Mr. Ryan, where he will do duty as a sire.

Alec Shields, who purchased Prince Melbourn at the Waikanae sale for $8,500, has a standing offer of a like amount for the horse at the conclusion of his racing career. The Prince has not been doing well this season, and it is doubtful if he will ever get to the post again. He should prove a good sire, however, as he is one of the last of the get of Lianbelle, a horse that sired many good winners. Waikanae paid $21,000 for the Prince at the sale of Bards' horses.

More than $100,000 will be given in stakes and purses at the Brighton meeting which begins today. Among the rich stakes to be decided are the Iniquity Stakes, with $4,000 added; the Neptune Stakes, with a like amount of added money; the Venus Stakes, with $4,000 added; the Predella Stakes, for two-year-olds, to be run in two sections, with a value of $15,000; the Brighton Oaks, for fillies three years old, with $5,000 added; the Brighton Cup, at two miles, with $5,000 added; the Brighton Junior Stakes, for two-year-olds, and the Brighton Derby, for three-year-olds, each with added money of $10,000.

Lucien Appleby offered $5,000 a few days ago for the chestnut horse Lustrative, by Meddler, but his owner, J. D. Crimmins, refused to sell.

Newton Bennington will send a string of horses to run at the Fort Erie meeting. Lady Albemarle, Bennington, and Kilogram have been sent to Saratoga.

W. C. Eustis, the popular local clubman who owns Knight of Rhodes, has returned from England, and is now attending the races at Providence.

Jeanne Marie, who started in the fifth race at Sheepshead Bay on Thursday, was quoted at 1,000 to 1 in the betting, and, turning for home, the filly was leading the bunch. It looked for a moment as if the horse would win, but she collapsed suddenly. It will be some time, however, before she is quoted at like odds again.

STREET CAR COLLISION.

Much Excitement, But No Injury Results From Failure of Brake to Work.

A rear-end collision between car 51 of the Capital Traction Company and car 920 of the Anacostia and Potomac River Railroad Company, at the corner of New Jersey Avenue and C Street northwest, occasioned considerable excitement among the passengers on both cars, but no one was injured.

The accident was due to the failure of the brakes on the Capital Traction car to work. Motorman William Jenkins stood by his car and tugged at the brake, but was unable to avoid the collision.

Convicted in Pittsburgh.

While under arrest in Pittsburgh, after the Hineman affair, on a charge of having shot a man in that city, for which he was convicted and served eighteen months in the penitentiary, Carson was visited by Detective Baur, with a man from this city who claimed to know him, but was pronounced by the man not to be the one wanted.

The knowledge of his crimes is so preying upon the negro, who looks like a hunted beast, that he is nearly on the verge of insanity. He was harrassed to know him, and almost without clothing. With the exception of a single small pie, he claimed that he had had nothing to eat since last Thursday, and was practically starved out.

George Davis, alias John Grayson, who participated in the shooting of Candier, was arrested September 13, 1900, and is now serving a term of four years in the Moundsville penitentiary for the offense. The story of the crime as told by Grayson has been corroborated by Carson in every detail.

GEORGETOWN LAWN FETE.

Success Induces Management to Continue Enterprise Two Days.

The Washington Times Newsboys Band was again the center of attraction at the lawn fete that is being held on the campus of Georgetown College for the benefit of the building fund for the Holy Trinity Church. The members of the band, 13, 16, and 18, and the attendance was the largest that has yet visited the fete.

The phenomenal success with which the enterprise has been received has induced Mr. Doyle and the members of his committee to arrangements to continue the fete for two more evenings, Monday and Tuesday, of the present week. The exhibition will be kept intact, and many new and additional features will be added to attract those who were frequent visitors during the past week.

Colored Boy Taken With Fit.

A colored boy, about thirteen years old, who gave his name as Willie Jones, was found sick in a vacant lot, near Fifth and E Streets southeast, yesterday afternoon. He was sent to the Washington Asylum Hospital by the police of the fifth precinct, and received the necessary medical attention.

The physicians stated that the boy was suffering from the effects of an epileptic fit. The boy said his home was in Charlotte, N. C.

Negro Charged With Assault.

Andrew Stewart, a negro, spent last night at the First precinct station, owing to his failure to put up $25 collateral to insure his appearance in Police Court tomorrow to answer to the charge of assault. It is alleged that he struck James Mann in the head with a ball on Thirteenth Street, just south of Pennsylvania Avenue northwest yesterday afternoon.

Runaway Horse Causes Collision.

Shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a horse attached to a delivery wagon belonging to the Franklin Steam Laundry ran away from in front of the premises 304 Thirteenth Street northwest. It collided with the wagon of S. Nussman, which was standing in front of the latter's store at 325 Thirteenth Street northwest, damaging it, and also demolished a street cleaning cart which was standing near. But little damage was done the runaway.

Fell From a Building.

While at work on the new building for Parker, Bridget & Co., at
